08. Special Accolades

Good Design Australia presents a number of special awards and accolades within the annual Australian Good Design Awards to recognise, reward and celebrate the expanding role of design in helping shape a better, safer and more prosperous world.

Please select the Accolades you wish your entry to be considered for below.

Australian Good Design Award for Sustainability*

(optional)

Established in 2007, the Australian Good Design Award for Sustainability is awarded to a project (product, service, place or space) that, in the opinion of the Jury, exemplifies excellence in design for sustainability practice and applies circular economy principles. A standalone expert Jury with relevant specialist knowledge will be responsible for reviewing projects for this Award and selecting one overall recipient.

Indigenous Design Award*

Presented by RMIT

(optional)

The Indigenous Design Award is proudly presented by RMIT University and recognises and celebrates the important contribution that Australia's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander designers make to Australian Design across the spectrum of design disciplines and practice. This award welcomes nominations of Indigenous individuals as well as projects where at least one member of the design team identifies as an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander.

Powerhouse Design Award

(optional)

The Powerhouse Design Award is chosen from the annual Australian Good Design Awards and the criteria includes good design, innovation and the significance of a design to Australia's culture. The Award is given to a project that has potential to make a significant improvement to the quality of health, wellbeing or the environment. This Award recognises the important role of design in harnessing the challenges of science and technology to make a positive impact on our lives.

Greener Spaces Better Places Award

(optional)

The Greener Spaces Better Places Award recognises excellence in green urban and space design. The Award was established to help raise awareness and to promote excellence in green design. The Greener Spaces Better Places Award recognises and celebrates the important role of green and living infrastructure design to our urban areas, to cool our cities, and make our neighbourhoods more appealing to work, play and relax.

To be considered for this Award, applicants must complete an additional drop-down section of the Entry Form with specific questions aligning to the evaluation criteria for this Award.*
