Dr. Subhash Ghimire
Chairman

Words from the Chairman

Dear Prospective Students,

Welcome to SANN International College for Higher Studies - an energetically growing institution of quality education in Nepal. Our concern for promoting social, cultural, intellectual and physical aspects of the pupils has been a milestone for educating the students holistically.

The dedicated faculty member/staff with systematic/scientific management and readiness to adapt changes have prepared us to deliver the quality education to our students. SANN experts firmly believe in the merit of tolerance, mutual understanding and global networking that the intercultural atmosphere at SANN offers to its students. Finally, I would like to welcome all our prospective students to SANN - a unique place to learn, achieve academic and personal excellence and to shape the future. The high quality we strive to achieve has been made possible through continually updated syllabus, timely examinations and our delivery methodologies.

Dr. Sambha Ghimire
Principal

Motivational Programme

Success is created along the way of perspiration in that specific subject which fits the inner interest. If one follows it, he/she will also be keeping contentment and pleasure in life. This core of education is the core of life.
- Nirajan Maudagalya (Natyakabi & Motivator)

Simon Neupane
Media/Motivator

I heard the example of Steve Jobs, Mark Zuckerberg, Bill Gates, Henry Fords etc in most of motivation speech. They went to be the richest and successful person in the world even after dropping school, college. This is probably the main reason for the motivation speech to be presented between most of the students. Now let's understand its technical point. Is it the way to be successful to dropped or not to read the college? If this is the case, what the world will return the poverty and ignorance. It is not best solution to identify the right education that you need. That is why success is not in education. It is in the system and the same system college needed today...

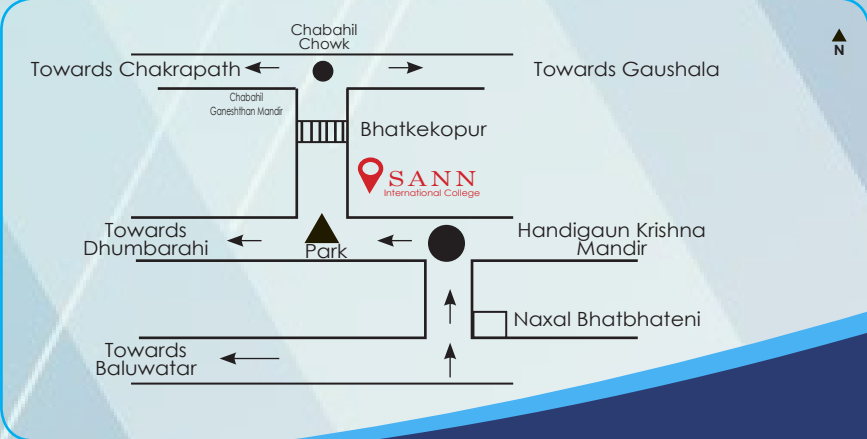

Now let's understand the mechanical aspect of education. For the success, only education is not enough, but the most important is the relevant education. So, what kind of education is suitable for you? What is the subject of your interest, desire or love? if identified, you would be in the list of the most successful people. Else, in the world, only 1% of the people are successful, while, 99% of them are failures. It is those 99% of the people who are actually working very hard just to make those 1% people successful. So, be very careful not to be among those 99%, but try to be the people from that group of successful 1%.
