AVERAGE FOOTFALL IN THE LIBRARY AND THE READING HALL (2024-25)

The reading hall remains open to all the students from 10:00 AM till 4:00 PM on all week days.

Footfall in the College Reading Hall, remains on an average 70-80. This figure might seem less, but the fact is the present set up can only accommodate a maximum of 80 students, who more often than not occupy the chairs as soon as the facility opens at 10:00 AM. The students tend to occupy their space throughout the length the reading hall remains open. Thus, others, or rather late arrivals to the reading hall barely find space to make use of. In contrast, the college library, for lack of space, only allows the postgraduate students to search and consult the books. Hence, the footfall remains grossly minimal than what it would really be, if it was open to the undergraduate students too. His footfall remains around (average) 50-60.

As one would wish, the average footfall for the teaching faculty making use of the library facility falls below one would expect, a mere average footfall figure of 5-6 per day. As per the records maintained by the library, the total number of teachers, who do make recurrent visits to the library too, remains abysmally low.

Footfall in the reading hall (3rd March & 4th April)
