

Summer Housing Presents

The Mews Apartments, Woolloongabba

SPECIALIST DISABILITY ACCOMMODATION INFORMATION SESSIONS

Summer Housing has teamed up with a local developer to build ten SDA (high physical support) apartments peppered throughout a larger multi-stage development in Woolloongabba. The apartments are due for completion in April 2019.

Summer Housing is proudly working with the Summer Foundation during the tenancy application process and together the organisations are hosting information sessions about the Woolloongabba apartments.

Who should attend?

- People with disability who are seeking housing to a high physical support design and their families.
- Support coordinators, case managers, social workers, discharge planners, allied health professionals and anyone working with people who may be eligible for Specialist Disability Accommodation (SDA) apartments (to a high physical support design).

You will learn about:

- Who can apply for these apartments (eligibility) and the application process
- The design, features and model of support within the apartments
- The SDA pathway for NDIS participants

About Summer Housing

Summer Housing is an approved NDIS Service Provider of Specialist Disability Accommodation. Summer Housing expands the housing options for younger people with disability who currently have little choice but to live in nursing homes where they frequently lead impoverished lives, characterised by social isolation and boredom.
